

Diversity

At St Stephens Primary we are committed to creating a positive geographical learning experience for all. It is our aim to promote self- esteem in pupils and help them to understand and value diversity in terms of cultures, religions, beliefs, ethnicities and social background. This is achieved by teaching a curriculum that breaks down barriers and reduces ignorance and prejudice.

At St Stephens Primary it starts by the children having the opportunity to share their own personal geographies and experiences within the local area, which is then extended to exploring and valuing the diversity of different communities within England and subsequently in the wider world.
